CHICAGO (AP)-A 125page plan to aid the mentally retarded was presented to Gov. Kerner Monday.

It calls for training of 2,500 new teachers and the construction of 15 mental nealth facilities.

The plan was prepared by the Illinois State Advisory Council on Mental Retardation.

The new teachers are needed, the report said, to comply with state laws making special classes for the retarded mandatory. This would mean increasing the present rate of training such teachers in Illinois by four times.

The new facilities should be built at the rate of one a year for the next 15 years, the report recommended. As the facil- International Accounts ities are put into use, antiquat-

Programed Learning

Optimistic reports about the success of programed learning, in which teaching machines are used in conjunction with special instruction books, have come from a number of schools. One of the more interesting aspects of these reports is that they make all the more plain the basic importance of being able to read well. Without this skill the programed instruction books, as well as other educational opportunities, are of relatively little help to the student.

In programed instruction the pupil, working at his own speed, answers a series of questions based on statements designed to develop a specific subject. The answers are immediately available under a sliding cover. It is intended that the student check his going on to the next group of statements and questions.

Teachers vary in their use of programed instruction. Some find it a successful way to adjust teaching to varying levels of ability. Others use the books to help special children or to reinforce teaching methods already in use. A few teachers report finding it difficult to interest special students in using the programed instruction when the rest of the class is occupied with other activities.

On the whole teaching machines seem to be an educational help of increasing importance. Yet, like so many other modern machines, they are only as good as the material programed into them. A teacher must still motivate the student, answer questions and bring the subject to life. And the child must be able to read.

Against A Subsidized Press

It is good that tentative plans for government subsidy or publication of a science newspaper have been called into question at an early stage. Grave issues of national policy are involved in this proposal.

There may be a need for a new publication that would bring the enormous array of scientific developments into better focus. Advances are being made on so many fronts, and so rapidly, that existing scientific journals have not been able to keep pace. Giving the public — even the scientific community itself — an adequate idea of what is going on in science is a difficult problem.

The question, however, is not whether a comprehensive science newspaper is desirable; the question is whether such a publication should be established or even sponsored by the government, and supported to any extent with tax funds. The short answer, in our view, is that this should not be done, because government invasion of the newspaper field poses an ultimate threat to freedom of the

The American Newspaper Publishers Association has raised objections along this line, expressing concern about the "policy implications" of an official study to determine the feasibility of having a science newspaper. These fears are by no means groundless, even though William Knox, chairman of the White House Committee on Scientific and Technical information, describes the ANPA's concern as "overblown."

The newspaper publisher's group said this in a letter to Dr. Donald F. Hornig, the President's science adviser: "We do not believe any newspaper should accept any form of subsidy from the government; to do so would jeopardize its independence and thereby erode the freedoms guaranteed in the First Amendment." That is the essential argument against a government-sponsored science newspaper.

CHRISTMAS 1965

CITIZENS OF JACKSONVILLE COMMUNITY:

Now the Christmas dinners are eaten, the toys played with, and the tree ornaments packed away again, but before we plunge into the tasks of 1966, we would like to express our thanks to the people of this community who so generously supported The Salvation Army's Tree of Lights Christmas effort.

Your contributions p u t food on many a table and presents under the tree-sometimes it put the tree there too - for local families with little means. But they did more than that. They helped to put a smile on children's faces on Christmas day and renewed faith in a parent's heart. They helped to bring the joy of the holiday and courage for the coming year to many of the I on I i e s t among us.

We wish you could have been personally present to see the difference that The Salvation Army makes—a difference that depends upon the support of citizens like yourself, citizens who care.

We want you to know that many persons have had a happier holiday and have found additional strength to face their problems through your generosity to The Salvation Army—and since they cannot thank you in person, we are doing it for them. To all those who helped us, many many thanks. May God bless you and yours in 1966.

> Most sincerely, Captain & Mrs. Harold F. Thomas

PREDICT FURTHER OUTPUT INCREASE

WASHINGTON (AP) - The National Planning Association predicted Monday night a $44billion gain in national output for 1966, to a $716-billion total as the boom enters a record sixth year.

Production could go as much as $10 billion higher or lower, an NPA study said, with the actual outcome depending largely on the still-uncertain scale of military spending tary spending.

It suggested that the Johnson administration's problem will be to find and pursue an economic policy "equally concerned with supporting continued growth on the one hand and preventing an inflationary price rise on the other." The study was made by NPA's chief economist, Dr. Gerhard Colm, former chief staff economist of the President's Council of Economic Advisers; and Carol Carson, NPA assistant economist. The association is a private planning and research organization supported by individuals and groups in industry, labor and agriculture.

POWER RETURNS TO BUENOS AIRES

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) - Electric power returned Monday to greater Buenos Aires

after a massive blackout. The power failure Sunday stalled trains, trolley buses, subways, water pumps and elevators. A power company communique, dismissing the possibility of sabotage, said the trouble was due to three simultaneous defects on power lines and in a transformer plant.

spades and the jack of hearts is opened against him. In rubber bridge the whole play would be unimportant because South would have 12 or 13 tricks in front of him, but this time the game is match-point duplicate. South notes that six no-trump is just as easy to make as six spades and that if West holds the king of diamonds, the hand will spread for a grand slam provided South takes the diamond finesse.

South wins the heart lead with the queen in dummy and pulls trumps. Meanwhile he has noted that he has a play at his disposal that may get him a very good score if the king of diamonds is in the East hand. South leads a diamond to dummy's ace and returns a low diamond toward his own hand.

East has the king and a moment of decision. Probably he should go right up with the king on the theory that if South really has a singleton diamond it won't do him any good to hold off, but then East does not have our advantages. He sees only his own cards and dummy. So East is likely to duck. North manages to make an overtrick at his slam contract.

Also, since the game is duplicate, that overtrick gives him the top score he is looking for.

The list announced by the Baseball Writers Association America includes 30 top vote getters in balloting last yea and 41 former stars who ar eligible for the first time. In addition to Williams, new comers who have been retired as players for the required five years include Enos Slaughter Don Newcombe, Alvin Dark Hank Sauer, Bobby Thompson and Mickey Vernon.

Holdovers include Red Ruff ing, runner-up to Luke Appling in a runoff ballot by th BBWAA in 1964; Roy Campan Reese, Lou Boudreau, Al Lo Leo Durocher, Pepper Mar Billy Herman, Ralph Kiner a Johnny Vander Meer.

Hy Hurwitz, secretary-tre urer of the BBWAA, mailed b lots to about 450 members w a minimum of 10 years in association. Ballots must be turned by Jan. 15.

To earn election to the Hal Fame, a player must be nan on 75 per cent of ballots ca Each voter may name up to former players.

Although often at odds w baseball writers during career, Williams appears a sure Warsaw bet to win election in his first Foley 0 year of eligibility.
